

Paragraph Numbering

1. Body paragraphs at document level are numbered in document order, including the prose that appears before the first section heading.
2. A second paragraph, so the sequence is visibly continuous rather than a single number.

A section

3. Paragraphs inside a section continue the same sequence — the numbering is document-wide, not per-section.

NOTE

An admonition's paragraph is part of the admonition, not body prose, so it is not numbered.

- A list item is part of its list, so it is not numbered either.
- A second item.

A sidebar's paragraph is not numbered.

A table cell's paragraph is not numbered.

4. The final body paragraph, which must carry the next number in sequence.